Local Producer: Hampshire

The Imagination Museum: Mayflower 400 project

Background/context

Made By Katie Green is a contemporary dance company specialising in creating work for museums and heritage sites. Alongside its performance work, the company is engaged in a programme of participatory work with children and young people, in schools and at museums.

From 2013-17, the company toured its promenade performance work The Imagination Museum to 28 museums and heritage sites across the UK; nearly 6000 people have seen the work live and another 1600 children and young people have joined us in workshops exploring the world of the work.

From 2018-2021, Made By Katie Green will be working with 19 heritage sites, schools and community centres across three Hubs in the South West and Midlands to develop the new Imagination Museum: Mayflower 400 project. This project will use the Imagination Museum model that has already been developed, as well as responding to the 400th anniversary of The Mayflower's famous journey from the UK to the New World, to engage audiences new to dance and/or heritage. The Imagination Museum: Mayflower 400 project is being supported using public funding by the National Lottery through Arts Council England.

Our three Hubs are Lincolnshire/Nottinghamshire (lead partners - Pilgrim Roots Regional Partnership/Transported), Hampshire (lead partners - Hampshire Cultural Trust/The Point) and Plymouth (lead partners – The Box/Plymouth Dance). At the moment we are planning 14-18 'Community Encounters' in each Hub over a 12 month period, starting in Lincolnshire/Nottinghamshire in November 2018. Each Encounter will include a performance and an interactive element (which may be a workshop, talk or artefact-handling session). At the end of the collaboration with each Hub, there will be a series of 2-3 days of Final Performances, which will integrate performances from community groups working alongside the professional company.

Hampshire Hub: Who are we looking for?

We want to recruit a Local Producer from Hampshire, whose main responsibilities will be:

- To support the Company Director (Katie Green) and Producer (Claire Morton) in planning for and delivery of the Imagination Museum: Mayflower 400 project in Hampshire, including working with Hampshire Cultural Trust sites in Aldershot, Fareham and Christchurch
- To act as a key liaison for 2 local dance artists (Dance Engagement Practitioners), local partners and participants in the area (including Hampshire Cultural Trust, The Point, local schools, youth and community groups and local museums), with support from the Company Director and Producer
- To participate in recruitment of a small team of volunteers, heritage interpreters, teachers, group/community leaders who will act as Community Ambassadors throughout the project
- To support delivery of:
 - 9 days of Community Encounters at local sites
 - Rehearsals/meetings with local community groups taking place between the Community Encounters (up to 10 days or equivalent)
 - 3 days of Final Performances (format tbc)

- An ‘Imagination Museum consortium’ day (bringing together a group of artists/arts organisations and heritage practitioners/venues interested in creative collaboration) (date to be confirmed)
- A final project symposium (venue tbc) taking place early in 2021 (curated in collaboration with the Local Producers from the other 2 Hubs)
- To support the collection of feedback from audiences and documentation of the project on the Imagination Museum website

As the work on this project is for a limited number of days (25 days) and would take place on a freelance basis over an extended period of time, the role would suit someone with an experience of production/project management looking to develop their professional experience who could fit the work around other commitments.

There will also be opportunities for exchange with Local Producers in the other 2 Hubs and participation in national events taking place as part of the project such as consortium meetings and a final symposium

The ideal candidate will:

- be organised, friendly, with excellent team-working skills
- already be well networked in the area in which we will be working in order to help us make local links to maximise the impact of the project
- believe in the work, and the potential for working creatively in heritage contexts, meaning they will be able to advocate for the project effectively with a range of partners and participants, including some who may have limited experience of engaging with the arts and heritage
- professional, with excellent communication skills and attention to detail
- have an interest in and some experience of running community events and bringing together programmes of work
